This is a period of unprecedented change in social housing; we want you to rest assured that help is at hand with Investors in Excellence. Speak with our experts, hear from business leaders, share cross-industry experiences and how they are applied using the Investors in Excellence Standard (IiE Standard). We work with over 40 different sectors and bring to bear best practice approaches evolved over many years in multiple business engagements.

“The opportunity for learning and sharing is immense.”

The IiE Standard, through extensive research and refinement of the very best elements of excellence used elsewhere in the world, captures the things that matter most to organisations needing to change, expand, refocus and re-establish.

The IiE Standard is a proven framework for achieving continuous improvement as well as ongoing success and sustainability; to achieve recognition an organisation must provide satisfactory evidence to address all activities and outcomes contained in the Standard. Success to the Standard does not mark the end of the excellence journey, maintenance as an Investor in Excellence challenges organisations to continuously adapt, stretch and improve through a cycle of plan, do, study, act to achieve ongoing success.

Using the framework allows leaders, boards, scrutiny panels, operational managers to rest assured that what matters most is being resourced, delivered and achieved.

What matters most in the sector today? Relentless focus on establishing credible strategies and plans; effective governance; maintaining and sustaining value for money; managing co-regulation and a balanced view of risks. It means the Investors in Excellence Standard really hits the mark.
